Farmers' Market Celebrates 5th Anniversary

Farmers' markets are as much about sustainable community as they are about sustainable agriculture. Consumers have lost touch with those who grow their food as much as the farmers have lost contact with the people who eat it. A farmers' market is the best place we know to reconnect with your food, the people who work hard to produce it, and your neighbors, all in one visit.

Our original market began in the parking lot of the Ace Hardware store in 2006 and was the brainchild of Judy Hardin – current owner of RabbitEars on Fairmont Avenue. And although she no longer works at the market, she can be seen every Sunday walking the aisles on Oak View Avenue buying loads of fresh organic greens for her rabbits and other creatures, big and small. From 2006 to 2008 the market was sponsored by KCC under their non-profit umbrella. It continued to expand and contract in the limited space of a parking lot, with its slight starboard tilt.

In May of 2008 the market found a new home, and a new farmer to sponsor it. We found ourselves on a full block of flat, open street at Oak View Avenue and Colusa. This new location allowed the market to offer better access to adjoining communities, and gave us room to invite more vendors to participate. Its current success is a perfect example of "If you build it they will come."

Refuse Rate Redux

Dear Outlook Editor,

My first thought when I heard that Bay View Refuse wanted a rate increase was, "What a bunch of baloney!" Then, the more I thought about it, I ended up being sympathetic to BVR. As a retired general contractor, I am all too familiar with bids, contracts, and fixed prices. They are unrealistic for contractors and for refuse companies. A major cost item for BVR is gasoline. How could Bay View have known that fuel prices would escalate by over 25% in a period of months? Who's "right" and who's "wrong" here? Well, I don't know the answer to that, but I do know that BVR gives us very good service. I know that Kensington is the only community around where customers do not have to place their cans for the convenience of the trash company. I do not want to see Bay View go and be at the mercy of some anonymous, mega trash collection company. My recommendation: negotiate a settlement with BVR.

Food Sovereignty

Lifting Local Food Production restrictions. Bee keeping, chicken raising: Currently these activities are restricted or prohibited in Kensington and other parts of Contra Costa County. These restrictions have damaged the ability of local citizens to aid pollination of productive plants, such as cold tolerant avocados by the using of bees, which are necessary to produce fruit in these highly desirable plants.

In the case of chickens it just makes no sense to not be able to have egg producing hens – six would be an adequate number to enable sensible production of food without interfering with neighbors. The common complaint regarding chickens is the early morning crowing of roosters, which are not necessary for egg production – and is merely a red herring, which is promoted by large-scale poultry product entrepreneurs to get uninformed nimby-types on board to prohibit home production of chickens. Four to six hens are not unclean and they produce a very rich fertilizer for other food plants and garden flowers. We can buy this fertilizer at Home Depot and spread it on our lawn and mix it into our vegetable and flower beds, but current industry serving prohibitions on chickens are forcing us to buy it at greatly inflated prices from Suisun City, in Solano County. This year, the prices of garden supplies have been jacked up by 19 1/2 % – from $7.49 at Kensington Ace Hardware to $8.95 for a 2 cubic foot bag of planting mix.

It is time to we citizens stand up to agribiz lobbyists and lift these restrictions and get our locally elected representatives such as Supervisor John Gioia to promote the needs of our local citizens by refusing to yield to the demands of the agribusiness conglomerates and their private profit machines and allow us to raise chickens and keep bees.

Excavation Explanation?

Dear Editor,

I am writing to complain about the Outlook's silence regarding activities at #257 Arlington Ave. The highly visible excavation there has been a mystery to many, with tales of claims, counter claims, foundation damage, harassment, code violations, influence peddling, a land grab, and more.

For the Outlook to serve as our community newspaper, it needs to cover the news, even when that news is difficult. The press enjoys broad protections in the USA, when it reports fairly and accurately. I urge the KCC and Outlook to pursue Journalism (sic) per the New York Times motto: "Without Fear or Favor." Report all the news, please.

Sudden Oak Death Here

Editor:

I hope that Kensington residents will do what they can to track and contain "sudden oak death" the disease that is ravaging coastal California's evergreen oaks. The fungus-like water mold that carries the disease now is established in East Bay Regional Parks from El Sobrante to Oakland, and has been confirmed in North Berkeley.

Most readers will see this too late to participate in the sudden-oak-death survey scheduled April 30 – May 1. If there's still time, there's info at www.fivecreeks.org, or sign up at www.sodblitz.Eventzilla.net. More Kensington surveyors needed!

If you have an i-phone, you can help with the survey described at www.oakmapper.org. For free training in how to protect specific trees, go to nature.berkeley.edu/garbelotto/english/sodtreatmenttraining.php. For general information on sudden oak death, including prevention, go to www.suddenoakdeath.org.

Loss of our coastal oaks would mean much more than loss of beauty – or property values. Danger from fire and falling limbs of trees will increase. Many birds and wild animals depend on oaks; their food and shelter would be affected, as would our watersheds and water cycle. Please help slow this plague's spread.

Neighborhood Notes

New Work by Local Poet

Last month, Kensington resident, Jeanne Wagner's most recent book of poetry, In the Body of Our Lives, was published by the Bay Area's Sixteen Rivers Press. Jeanne's second full-length collection of poems "looks back on a Cold War-era childhood and its effect on the construction of a self. Refusing both sentimentality and censure, the poet shines an unflinching light on a home characterized by alienation, stringent Catholicism, shadowy alcoholism, and the inescapable attitudes and historic events of the 1950s." Wow! Jeanne will be reading from her new book at the Albany Library at 7pm on June 14th. For more information, contact the publisher at www.SixteenRivers.org.

It Was a Tall Oak Tree

"Something looks crazy out here," Lorraine Osmundson said to herself when she walked out onto the brick patio and into the garden behind her lovely Kingston Avenue home last month. Then she realized what it was - her beautiful 75-year old oak had blown down in the previous night's storm - you know, the one with the thunder, lightning, and drifting hail. At right, she posed for us in front of her old oak, as it was being transformed into a lifetime supply of firewood.

Hamsterama!

RabbitEARS owner, Judy Hardin, posed with Natalia Zamora and Pizza, the hamster, at last month's Hamsterama at RabbitEARS' new location on Fairmount, two doors down from FatApples. Judy's always got somethin' happenin' at RabbitEARS, where you can adopt a rabbit, hamster, or similar critter - you just can't buy one! Pet supplies? Si!

Local Qi Team Offers Weight Loss Acupuncture Program

Along with good nutrition, sleep, stress reduction and regular exercise, the Qi Team tells us that acupuncture can improve metabolic problems by regulating body chemistry, improving digestion and nutrient absorption, and balancing the nervous system... Some studies have shown that acupuncture helps facilitate weight loss in obese patients with low metabolism (the hypothalamus-pituitary-adrenal system) by stimulating and regulating the system so that it works more efficiently; and that it can also influence "emotional" eating by calming the nervous system and reducing cravings... Free talks about their program take place the second Wednesday of every month in Kensington. Info and reservations at www.WeightLossAcupuncture.co or 526-3636 extension 2.

After a year and a half at the new location the vendors opted to hold an election to see if they would choose a new board and see if they wanted to choose a new manager to run the market. They did, and the Kensington Farmers' Market Association was replaced with the Kensington Community Market Board in November of 2010. The new board, spearheaded by Kensington residents Meryl Natchez,

"How much fun is this?!! See Roy - we don't have to go to the Ferry Building anymore."

Overheard from a couple at the Kensington Farmers' Market, one Sunday last month.

Mark Altenberg, Kay Reed, and Johanna Ferman, included the return of Chris Hall as the market manager.

This newly elected board brought a fresh energy and direction to our market, and by early spring of this year we clearly rivaled many of the other successful farmers' markets here in the East Bay. The more successful the market becomes, the more great vendors want to be a part of it. In just one year we have gone from a market that had to actively recruit vendors, to one that is continually sought out by farmers and food purveyors (cur-

PTA. Proceeds from the raffle are used to fund PTA and Dads' Club projects. These range from purchasing much needed school supplies and earthquake preparedness supplies for each of the 563 students (so relevant given recent events) to paying for outside speakers for school assemblies and funding activities such as Art Night and Movie Night, to name just a few.

"The Gardens of Kensington" quilt was crafted by Romy Douglass, Rachelle Sherris-Watt and Marie Plette Streshinsky. These committed "Quilting Moms" had such a moving experience making quilts for the school in the past that it motivated them to sign on again this year. The Gardens of Kensington quilt will be on display outside the Kensington Hilltop School office the first week of May.

Additional raffle prizes from local merchants include gift certificates from Urbanity Style Sharing, The Arlington, and Kensington Nail Spa, as well as jewelry from Anthropologie, Ann Taylor, and Successories. Raffle tickets are $1 each or $10 for a book of 12. For more information on the raffle, or to purchase tickets, contact Anna Siria Ortiz at 262-9237. All proceeds benefit Kensington Hilltop School. WHEREAS, the Board of Directors previously completed its proceedings in accordance with and pursuant to the Landscaping and Lighting Act of 1972, Part 2, Division 15 of the California Streets and Highways Code (commencing with Section 22500) (the "Act") to establish the Kensington Park Assessment District (the "Assessment District"); and

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors has retained NBS for the purpose of assisting with the annual levy of the Assessment District, and the preparation and filing of an Annual Report.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, DETERMINED, AND ORDERED BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS, AS FOLLOWS:

1. Intention: The Board of Directors hereby declares its intention to levy and collect assessments within the Assessment District to pay the costs of the Improvements for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 2011 and ending June 30, 2012. The Board of Directors finds that the public's best interest requires such action.

2. Improvements: The improvements within the District include, but are not limited to: the operating, maintaining and servicing of all public landscaping improvements, consisting of landscaping and grass. Operating, maintaining and servicing include, but are not limited to: personnel, materials, electrical energy and water. 3. Assessment District Boundaries: The boundaries of the Assessment District are as shown by the assessment diagram filed in the offices of the Secretary, which map is made a part hereof by reference.

4. Annual Report: Reference is made to the Annual Report prepared by NBS, on file with the Secretary, for a full and detailed description of the improvements, the boundaries of the Assessment District and the zones therein, and the proposed assessments upon assessable lots and parcels of land within the Assessment District.

5. Notice of Public Hearing: The Board of Directors hereby declares its intention to conduct a Public Hearing concerning the levy of assessments in accordance with Section 22629 of the Act. All objections to the assessment, if any, will be considered by the Board of Directors. The Public Hearing will be held on Thursday May 12, 2010 at 7:00 pm or as soon thereafter as is feasible in the meeting place of the Board of Directors located at 59 Arlington Avenue, Kensington, CA. The Board of Directors further orders the Secretary to publish notice of this resolution in accordance with Section 22626 of the Act.

6. Increase of Assessment: The maximum assessment is not proposed to increase from the previous year above that previously approved by the property owners (as "increased assessment" is defined in Section 54954.6 of the Government Code).

Why is this market different from all other markets?
 Because loans are harder to get, appraisals are problematic and Buyers are looking for solid values. To sell a home it needs to be prepared well, priced carefully and marketed with skill.
